Linguistische Juniorentreffen in Wrocław III
LINGUISTIK – INTERKULTURELL?
November 4–5, 2022

The main topic of the third conference of the “Linguistische Juniorentreffen in Wrocław” cycle is intercultural linguistics (“Linguistik interkulturell”). The general theme of the conference involves especially various issues resulting from the cultural turn in linguistics. On the one hand, they include a wide range of linguistic communication referring to the elements of specific cultures. On the other hand, they compare two or more cultures and, consequently, they are concerned with mutual intercultural and, what follows, interlingual influences. Linguistic intercultural research, around which we situate the main points of focus of our conference, involves in particular:

- ✓ cultural elements and their manifestations in language,
- ✓ intercultural differences and their manifestations in language,
- ✓ typical areas of “intercultural clashes” (such as: school, public space, Internet and social media, computer games, etc.),
- ✓ culturemes and their application in linguistic and multimodal communication,
- ✓ bilingualism and multilingualism,
- ✓ intercultural approach in translation studies, foreign language teaching and lexicography,
- ✓ types of texts and their cultural markedness,
- ✓ ...

We invite you to present various topics situated within the scope of intercultural linguistics and linguistic contacts in a broad sense as well as issues of contrastive linguistics. Also, we would gladly include in our conference program your presentations in broadly understood linguistics which go beyond the proposed topical scope.

We invite young adepts of science: PhD candidates, BA and MA students to participate in our conference. This meeting serves as a platform for scientific exchange and discourse. We would like to invite you to present your projects carried out as part of your diploma theses.
